Discovery..

Happy New Year My Beloved Team!

People tend to cling to memories of the past as they become older or even as they experience success at a younger age.

Memories are made of successes and while they feel good to reflect on, they feel even better in real time going forward. ♥

Do, don't stew.

Start something new – don't just review past successes.

Engage someone new – a person you don't normally contact, spend time with or have a dialogue with. Start one. One new outreach a day, brings 365 potential people some of whom

BRRR... Its cold outside! Home Tips.

When freezing temps seem to seep right into the marrow of your bones, know that the same thing is happening to your home, too. And like you, if you don't protect it from the elements, the results would be, well, let's just say, not good.

Here's how to keep your home safe and your bones warm.

MAKE SURE YOU HAVE EMERGENCY SUPPLIES

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) says to be sure you have these things:

- Snow shovels - more than one because they can break, and four hands are better than two if you have them
- Deicers, preferably the pet-safe type
- Extra fuel such as firewood, a full propane tank, or a generator.
- Clean blankets, pillows, warm clothing, etc. because you might not be able to do laundry for awhile
- Food and water that doesn't require refrigeration
- Transistor radio with new batteries – and backup batteries

When it comes to deicers, some of the more environmentally-safe types include calcium magnesium acetate and sand to improve traction. Be sure to stock up early in the season, as they become scarce before a well-publicized storm.

DO THESE 5 TASKS TO WINTERIZE YOUR HOME

1. Check roof tiles, shutters, siding, and other exterior materials to ensure they're secure
2. Make sure gutters are clear
3. Seal air leaks around the home to keep it warmer (and save energy costs)
4. Insulate all exposed plumbing pipes to prevent burst pipes
5. Trim tree branches away from your roof to prevent roof damage

High winds, ice, and moisture from winter storms can easily strip off roof tiles and gutters, exposing your home to serious damage. Make sure no roof tiles are loose or missing. Do the same with your gutters and siding.

And clean your gutters. If you don't, you risk an ice dam. What's an ice dam? Ice dams occur when ice melts off the roof during the day and then re-freezes as it drips into a clogged gutter. This can force water back under the roofline and cause serious leaks, often thousands of dollars in damage.

While you're insulating your pipes, remind yourself where all water shut-off valves are so you can turn off the water supply in case of any leaks.

Overgrown tree branches are a risk to your home, vehicles, and loved ones. But trimming and removal can be dangerous, too, so don't attempt it on your own. Best to hire a pro.

can enrich your life (and you theirs).
It only takes one.

Life is like a concert.

We enjoy songs from the past but we also appreciate brand new lyrics and beats - preferably together in a nice balance.

This is a time of new a time for new year resolutions a time to change to get better!

No matter what you decide stick to it and drive yourself until you reach the finish line!

Welcome to 2018!

See you on the road to success
there aren't many willing to travel it..

Much love and blessings +
